

BERLIN HONORS PENTICTON

Presentation Of Bell Feature Of Ceremony

By SID GODBER

BERLIN — A replica of the liberty bell which hangs in the Berlin city hall, a gift of the United States, was presented to the City of Penticton, yesterday.

The presentation was made by Sen. Ella Kay on behalf of the Berlin government "as a symbol of the determination of the people of Berlin to remain free."

The occasion was the honoring of the Penticton Vees hockey team at a banquet given by the Berlin sporting association.

President Clem Bird accepted the bell on behalf of Penticton and will later present it to Mayor Oscar Matson who is now en route to the world championship games.

Bird, team captain George McAvoy, and ice captains Dick Warwick and Jack McIntyre received gold lapel badges bearing the famous Berlin bear crest which are presented to German champion athletes and outstanding foreign visitors.

Russia's top flight hockey team, which will shortly be engaged in defending the title of world hockey champions, now have some idea — but not much — of what they will be up against when they meet the Canadian champions, the Penticton Vees.

Wednesday night Col. Kozotov, president of the Russian ice federation, was a close observer of the Vees European debut when the Penticton team overran a hodge-podge German international ice hockey team 11-4.

Asked today what he thought of the Vees performance, the colonel smiled, briefly "they do not show all they have," he said. "They did not go all out, not by a long way."

Eats Problem Solved

The Penticton Vees problem of getting enough to eat has been solved and the general situation is now good, the president of the Canadian representatives in the world hockey championships said here last night.

Clem Bird said local misinterpretations of the team's complaints to mean that West Germany is short of food were "ridiculous."

He told Berlin newspapermen that since he upped the players' per diem allowance the food problem had been solved. "My criticism was levelled not at the hotel but at the small allowance from the German ice hockey association which made it impossible for the hotel to supply an adequate amount of food. Other than that the general situation is good."

Bird said he had secured visas for the team to enter Czechoslovakia for two exhibition games, "but doing that occupied myself and several other people for two days."

"Haphazard Throughout"

The arrangements for the team's pre-series program had been "haphazard throughout," he said. "And then when we did arrive in Berlin after almost 48 hours of continuous flight from Vancouver we find there is only half a team to play against."

"That's not good enough for hockey in Berlin or good for the Vees who undertook to play in a series of exhibition games to act as conditioners for the job that lies ahead—bringing the world championship back to Canada."

The Vees loaned three of their players to the German team for Wednesday night's game which they won 11-4.

Bird suggested to Col. Pavel Kozotov of the Soviet ice hockey federation that the Russians loan some of their players to the Berlin team for today's exhibition game.

The Russians were not enthusiastic and the West Berliners were violently opposed. "The people of West Berlin would not allow it," snapped one newspaper.

Two forwards and a defenseman were believed to be on their way here from West Germany to strengthen the German team.

Bird and Kozotov also discussed the possibility of next year's Allan Cup champions touring Russia.

How Germans See It

KREFELD, GERMANY — (BUP) — The German ice sports association said today that the Penticton Vees, representing Canada in the hockey world championships, will not have to worry about getting enough to eat.

Penticton Club President Clem Bird had cabled to the president of the Canadian Hockey Association, bitterly complaining about the conditions the team is living under in Berlin. Bird especially criticized the "meagre" eating allowance.

Will Fight Polio With Salk Vaccine

Two thousand children of the South Okanagan, in the five and six years of age group, will this summer receive Salk vaccine in the fight against poliomyelitis. They are part of a group of 48,000 British Columbia youngsters who will receive the vaccine.

Main Tunnel At Beavercreek Near Halfway Point

New tunnel being punched into the side of Mt. Wallace at Beavercreek has almost reached the halfway point, Orton S. Perry, Highland Bell mine manager said on a visit to Penticton this week.

It is proposed to drill a distance of one mile where geologists believe they will find a valuable body of ore.

Most of the tunnelling is through granite.

The weatherman says...

... Mostly clear today and Saturday — Continuing cold — Winds light both days — Low tonight and high tomorrow at Penticton, 12 and 32 degrees.

This was announced by the Union Board of Health at a meeting of the South Okanagan Health Unit held Wednesday afternoon in the council chamber at City Hall.

START IN APRIL

The plan as outlined calls for the immunization to start on April 17, immediately after the Easter school holiday, with the first injection then, another a week later, and one more four weeks later.

Consent of parents will be sought in each instance, indications being that such agreement is readily forthcoming, when it means relief from the danger of poliomyelitis.

Only sufficient vaccine is available for the age-group specified. The total supply of Connaught Medical Laboratories in Toronto, who have just started manufacturing the material, has been purchased through dominion and provincial health grants and no vaccine will be available privately this year.

SEVENTY POUNDS OF BOXER, a product of Penticton Athletic Club, nine and a half year old Dennis McGoldrick is a typical example of the enthusiastic young group who work out at the Ellis street gym. But there are lots of fellows in the 180 pound class too and tonight the boys enter their first big card at Keremeos. The local club will hold a boxing card here later this spring.

Cancer Panel At Annual Meeting

Mrs. E. W. A. Cooper was elected president of the Penticton Unit, of the Canadian Cancer Society, at the annual meeting held Wednesday night. The meeting heard a panel discussion on cancer under the joint sponsorship of the local unit and the Penticton Medical Association.

Dr. W. Roy Walker acted as moderator, with Dr. Ronald Nash, cancer specialist of Vancouver, Dr. S. E. M. Sloan and Dr. J. J. Gibson as medical speakers, and Mrs. Thelma Dawson of Vancouver, field organizer for the B.C. division, speaking for the work of the Cancer Society in the province.

All speakers stressed the importance of early diagnosis and treatment. The Herald, in the public interest, will present a verbatim report of the discussion in Monday's edition.

Guests included representatives from the units in Oliver and Summerland. Dr. D. A. Clarke of Kelowna, medical health officer for the South Okanagan Health Unit, solicited the society's aid in planning and financing the proposed health centre in Penticton. (Continued on Page Eight)

SOCCER W.A. MEETING

The Penticton Social Credit Women's Auxiliary will hold a regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Olson, 456 Hanson St., next Tuesday at 3:30 p.m.

Truck Driver Stuck Twice

SUMMERLAND — A Dominion Auto Carriers truck from Windsor, Ont., was in difficulty on the Peach Orchard hill, RCMP at the scene to help out found the driver in trouble too, as he didn't have a British Columbia permit.

The truck got under way up the hill alright, but was delayed while the driver was in police court where he was fined $10 and costs.

MRS. THELMA DAWSON on cancer panel

The "Go-Vees-Go World Tournament Fund" now officially stands at $16,187.85. This total includes a $250.98 donation from the Windsor, Ont., arena, fans and hockey club, raised at a special exhibition game last week.

MISS JOYCE CHEN

KAMLOOPS' MAYOR IS OVMA HEAD

Mayor J. E. Fitzwater of Kamloops is new president of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association, succeeding Mayor J. J. Ladd, of Kelowna, whose year term of office expired at yesterday's annual meeting, held at Armstrong.

Mayor N. S. Johnson of Enderby was unanimous choice for vice-president, while the directorate includes Mayor Oscar Matson, Penticton, who succeeds Alderman E. A. Titchmarsh as Penticton representative; Reeve F. E. Atkinson of Summerland, and Mayor G. W. Game of Armstrong.

By unanimous decision the notice of motion advanced at the November meeting, held in Summerland, whereby all past presidents shall automatically be honorary life members of the association, was passed. These will include, among others, former Reeve C. E. Bentley of Summerland and O. L. Jones, M.P. for Okanagan-Boundary. They will have a voice in discussions, but no vote, delegates decreed.

Plan To Subsidize Buses Turned Down By OVMA

Penticton's resolution on the proposal that municipalities, districts, and cities be permitted to subsidize privately-owned bus systems that serve their communities, met overwhelming defeat at the annual meeting of the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association held at Armstrong yesterday.

This resolution was presented to the convention by Alderman J. G. Harris without preface or comment, as had been agreed, so that a "test of reaction" might be gained. The results were more than expected, the idea being defeated by an overwhelming majority.

But not all the city and district representatives were opposed to the idea of the change, which would ask the government to include in the appropriate section of the Municipal Act just the addition of the word "subsidize", where it now allows the municipalities to own and operate such lines. But as a safety gauge the resolution suggested that such subsidy be allowable only by application to and consent of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

From Kelowna there came support for the idea, Aldermen there pointing out that they had held a plebiscite that had gone overwhelmingly in favor of aid for the Kelowna service, which was deemed necessary to residents of one part of the city. Alderman Knox of Kamloops said that his city had had a similar difficulty, but had suggested (Continued on Page Eight)

Vees Go On Spree To 16-1 Victory

BERLIN — The Vees had it even easier in their second game in the current pre-tournament exhibition series.

Playing here tonight against a mixed team that contained Canadian and Swedish additions to the German team, the Penticton squad coasted to a second straight win that was even more than impressive.

When the smoke had cleared away the Vees were credited with a 16-1 victory.

Sum'land Woman Health Unit Head

MRS. A. W. VANDERBURG Health Unit head

IN GOOD CONDITION

Harvey Wish, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wish of Leir avenue, is in good condition in Penticton Hospital with a severe leg fracture as the result of an accident while tobogganing.

The break, near the ankle, had to be reset yesterday, and the youth will be out of school for the balance of this term.

The Wish boy was with his family and friends when the mishap occurred above Carmi avenue. The toboggan hit a stump.

* Declaring that he was "not available for re-election" Alderman Arthur Jackson, of Kelowna, ended three years as chairman of the Union Board of Health for the South Okanagan. Meeting of the board was held Wednesday at City Hall.

He is succeeded as chairman by Mrs. A. W. Vanderburg, chairman of the Summerland's School Board, and well known in the district as Summerland Herald reporter, who has been active in the health unit from its foundation many years ago. Alderman A. C. Garrioch of Penticton was unanimous choice as vice-chairman, the secretaryship remaining in the hands of Dr. D. A. Clarke, of Kelowna, director of the health unit.

MEMBERS OF BOARD The membership of the union board for 1955 is as follows: Frank Venables, Oliver; Mrs. L. Balla, Penticton; Mrs. R. P. Clarke, Keremeos; E. E. Burr, Princeton; Mrs. M. McPetridge, Kelowna; Mrs. A. W. Vanderburg, Summerland; N. E. Sudaby, Kelowna; Alderman E. R. Winter, Kelowna; Councillor Ivor Jackson, Peachland; Councillor J. R. Butler, West Summerland; Alderman H. G. Garrioch, Penticton; Commissioner C. W. Duggan, Oliver; Commissioner Eric Becker, Osoyoos; G. J. Norman, Princeton; E. Ross Oatman, Kelowna; T. S. Dalby, Penticton; B. Kennelly, Princeton; Don Pringle, Copper Mountain, and Dr. D. A. Clarke, Kelowna.

COMPULSORY CHECK ASKED IN TB CASES

A firm hand in circumscribing tuberculosis is to be taken by the Union Board of Health, as indicated by two resolutions passed Wednesday afternoon's session held at the City Hall here.

One of these covers the case of those who had resisted going for treatment. Where such active cases are at liberty the danger of spreading infection is extreme. It was stated. A provincial law is necessary, it was agreed.

Text of the resolution covering this is as follows: "All active infectious cases of tuberculosis shall be compelled to go for treatment in provincial sanitariums."

Copies of the resolution will be sent to all other health groups, and also to the provincial minister of health and welfare, to see if it can be made a B.C. law.

The second resolution proposes to include beverage dispensers in beer parlors and cocktail lounges in the anti-T.B. provisions now covering waitresses and other food handlers.

Gas Pipe Line Discussed By OVMA Meeting

Far from being forgotten, the gas proposals presented last November to the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association took a new twist at the Thursday session of the group held in Armstrong. D. E. Oliver, of Kelowna, asked to speak on the matter but Kelowna's Mayor J. J. Ladd, who had been chairman of the special gas committee, suggested the valley could "get on the main line" if it would work for it.

Mr. Oliver said that a second main line is now planned to parallel the original one being installed by Westcoast Transmission, this line to follow the "big inch" as far as Merritt, then swinging from that line to Princeton, thence to Nighthawk on the boundary.

He proposed that effort be made to get this line diverted at Savona, through the Okanagan valley.

A full account of Mr. Oliver's proposal, and other comments will appear in the Monday's issue of The Herald.

United Appeal Discusses Drive

Appointment of a campaign manager and time at which the appeal for funds will take place were discussed at the annual meeting of Penticton and District United Welfare Appeal, held last night at the Hotel Prince Charles.

A full report on the meeting and election of officers will appear in Monday's edition of The Herald.

Two New Members For Past Chiefs' Ass'n

The regular meeting of the Past Chiefs' Association of the Pythian Sisters was held last Monday at the home of Mrs. George Chapman with president Mrs. E. S. Brittain in the chair. Following adjournment and prior to the serving of refreshments by the hostess two new members, Mrs. Howard Close and Mrs. Jack Merrick, were welcomed to the meeting.

St. Andrew's L.A. Sends Clothing Parcels To Korea

A missionary in Pusan, Korea, Miss E. M. Palethorpe, whose sister-in-law is Mrs. J. L. Palethorpe, president of the Ladies' Aid to St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church here, will distribute ten parcels of clothing sent directly to her by the L.A. for the needy in that area.

Final plans for dispatching the parcels were made at the monthly meeting of the group held last week at the home of Mrs. Frank Hayhurst, Ellis street.

Other business at the well attended meeting included tentative plans for the annual fall bazaar to be held on November 5 and the reading of letters of appreciation from hospital patients who were recipients of flowers and cards from the L.A. Two new members, Mrs. M. B. Goodwin and Mrs. Andrew Gillespie, were welcomed to the organization by the president.

The March meeting of the L.A. will be held at the home of Mrs. George Baulkham, 579 Park street.

Following adjournment refreshments were served by the hostess.

Supper For Summerland Oddfellows, Rebekahs

SUMMERLAND — Quite willing to "take pot luck" which proved to be delicious were 125 or more Oddfellows and Rebekahs who sat down to supper in the IOOF hall on Wednesday evening at West Summerland.

Leslie Gould was master of ceremonies for the dinner and program and introduced Brother Newman of Oliver, district deputy grand master.

Gail Henker opened the entertainment with a piano solo, and Jean Kersey's sword dance was appreciated. Louise Shannon and Carol Hackmann did a delightful old-fashioned minuet and Darlene Shannon, a sprightly Irish jig.

To conclude Lester Arkell showed an interesting film.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Patterson, Skaha lake, have returned to Penticton after spending the past several days in Vancouver.

Alderman F. P. McPherson left for Vancouver last evening in connection with business.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE RALPH BRADBURN, principals in a pretty wedding ceremony on Saturday evening in the Penticton United Church.

Twin Sister Attends Bride At Bradburn-Clark Nuptials

With her twin sister as bridesmaid and lovely in a ballerina length frock of pale pink nylon net over crinoline, Miss Edith Margaret Clark became the bride of George Ralph Bradburn at a pretty ceremony on Saturday evening in the Penticton United Church. Rev. Ernest Rands officiated when the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Clark was given in marriage by her father to the son of Mrs. Frederick Bradburn and the late Mr. Bradburn.

A rhinestone-studded coronet clasped the bride's shoulder length veil of pink net and complementing her attire were a necklace and earrings of pearl and a nosegay of softly colored pink and white carnations.

Miss Eleanor Clark, bridesmaid, wore a hat styled of rose petals to match in color her ballerina length frock of chartruese net over taffeta, and the petite flower girl, Bonnie Lukas, was sweet in pale yellow net with a hair bandeau of rosebuds. They both carried nosegays of pastel colored carnations.

The best man, Bill Ritherson, came from Vancouver for the occasion while the ushers were Ronald and Pat Quail, both of Powell River. Mrs. Monica Craig Fisher was church organist.

More than 150 guests attended the reception held on the SS Sicamous when the best man proposed a toast to the bride.

A poudre blue knitted suit with black accessories were worn by Mrs. Bradburn when the newly married couple left for an Edmonton honeymoon. They will take up residence in this city on their return.

Among the out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bradburn, Nelson; Mr. and Mrs. Len Harvey, Princeton; B. Scott, Powell River, and Bob May, Vancouver.

Former residents of Penticton, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Martin, and family, of the RCA station at Penhold, Alberta, are leaving for Europe where the former has been transferred to Germany on technical duties with the Air Force. Mrs. Martin and children will spend a short time visiting in England with her mother prior to joining her husband in Germany.

Party Follows Meeting Of Summerland Institute

SUMMERLAND — Summerland Women's Institute members and friends were present in large numbers for the regular meeting followed by the annual Valentine party on Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Eric Tait, the president, welcomed three Penticton members; Mrs. Guy Brock, president of Penticton W.I.; Mrs. John Bowen-Colthurst, chairman of the district rally, and Mrs. J. W. Johnson.

Mrs. Bowen-Colthurst spoke briefly on this year's rally, which is to be at Kelowna in May.

Pouce Coupe WI had, written to thank Summerland WI for a gift of lavender bags, so much appreciated in that northern area. Enclosed was a village history written by their members some years ago for entry in the Tweedmuir Cup competition. It was well written, telling amusingly of early days when a district rally was held there. They asked the Vancouver board of trade for B.C. products for display. So many were sent that their sale afterwards paid all the rally expenses.

A donation of $10 was voted to the Youth Centre.

Following a report by Mrs. E. E. Farnham, head of the welfare committee, it was voted to spend up to $100 to assist in furnishing a room at the Valley View Lodge, Penticton. Some members are donating furniture for the same purpose. It was reported that three Summerland people are in residence at Valley View.

Musical numbers by Mrs. Flora Bergstrom, Mrs. Howard Milne, and Mrs. W. C. Wilkin, with Mrs. Lionel Fudge, accompanist, were greatly enjoyed.

Comical charades and a competition based on national products helped to make this Valentine party a memorable one.

A special tea with a delightfully arranged tea table was all done by the directors as is the annual custom.

Guild Sponsors Series Of Social Evenings

Members of the Guild to St. Saviour's Anglican Church held their regular meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. P. L. Wiseman and discussed plans for their annual fall bazaar, and on Wednesday evening held another in their series of social evenings in the parish hall.

The enjoyable social was highlighted by the showing of a film and serving of refreshments. H. D. Pritchard, as master of ceremonies for the evening, welcomed a large number of Naramata parishioners among the many present. Mrs. J. T. Young was party convener.

A door prize donated by Mrs. D. V. Cranra was won by O. E. Schjodi, 301 Edna avenue. Another social evening will be held in April.

Mrs. A. V. Marchant, 244 Conklin avenue, was winner of the door prize, a decorated cake, at the homecoming sale held on Saturday under the sponsorship of the Order of the Royal Purple.

Sports Retorts

BY JOHN YEOMANS

Don't know what's going on with the CAHA and the Vees trip to the World Hockey Tournament, but it's beginning to look as if the former organization isn't what one would call exactly "net up" with interest about the project of regaining the world hockey title from Russia.

First of all the CAHA left it until about a month ago before they started doing anything about organizing Canada's campaign to regain the world title. Then they told the Vees they would just have to raise $15,000 to help finance the trip.

Now there's this unfortunate business about the Vees threatening to withdraw from the tournament at their living conditions don't improve in Europe. We don't believe for one moment that Clem Bird, Grant Warwick and Co. would ever have carried out this "threat"; the report from Europe was probably sensationalized anyway.

But the point of it all is that the CAHA hasn't done very much at all to help smooth out rough spots such as this one — which everybody knew would turn up.

And this trouble about the referees; news has been pretty vague, but it appears that the International Ice Hockey Association asked the CAHA (by letter) to dig up a couple of whistle-blowers for the World Hockey Tournament. The CAHA promptly forgot about the whole thing and never even answered the letter. . . . Now, with the tourney about to get underway, the thing comes to light.

The centre of gravity of world hockey has doubtlessly shifted eastward slightly in the last couple of years. This, plus the horrifying fact that Russia beat Canada at her national sport last year, should serve to set off a few firecrackers under the CAHA's chair. Apparently there have been no explosions, however, and the group sits as quietly and serenely as ever, as if nothing has happened.

Don't know what it all means, but it does serve to strengthen this writer's conviction that the day is close at hand when the CAHA will cease to be approached on the question of Canada sending a team to the World Hockey Tournament.

Ah well, perhaps things will turn out better than expected as the series progresses. We just hope that the CAHA didn't go and buy the Vees one-way plane tickets by mistake.

KNICKKNACKS — Well, Penticton's fine senior girls' basketball team has finally found itself a name, we see. From now on sports history in B.C. will be made by the Penticton "Peaches". . . who, incidentally could really go places this season with a little good luck. Only one thing is lacking however: uniforms, and that means a sponsor. Here we have the finest women's basketball team ever to call Penticton its home; yet the girls have to turn up at their games in as varied a set of sports outfits as a Monday morning clothes line. . . all because of not having a sponsor. Couldn't somebody step forward and help out in this regard? Play-offs will probably be starting the middle of next week, and it would sure be appreciated if someone agreed to act as the Peaches' sponsor before then. This is pretty important. What do you say?

A great big "hats off" to those school boys who made those gavel for Mayor Matson to present to various and sundry European Burgomeisters. Made on four school lathes and finished with a new American process, they are the work of the following boys: Douglas Coy, Eddie Schandel, Leslie Trabert, Lloyd Radnoske, Harold Sato, Allan Garlinge, Lloyd Sundry, Lloyd Radnoske, Paul Stoochnoff, Paddy Newton, David Steele and Bernard Kent. The gavel apparently crossed the Atlantic on the same plane as the Vees, to be picked up by Mayor Matson at the other side. They're all made of genny-wine Saskatoon wood cut in Penticton, so they're as authentically Canuck as the Vees themselves.

And don't, of course, miss tonight's or tomorrow's Glangary Club "Wonderland on Ice" at the Memorial arena. This is a real show worth seeing, by all accounts; lots of life, color, youth and vivacity, with talent galore. Also, it's possibly the last time the Koonts sisters will be directing a show here, as the two charming gals, Elise and Joanne, are rumored to have been approached in regard to taking part in some big show back east.

Got to doodling Wednesday after the paper had rolled off the press, while casually looking over the final individual scoring statistics of all OSAHL players.

On examining the long list of figures — which can mean so much or so little in regard to sizing up a player's ability — the thought struck that such players as Kamloops' Gordie Kerr and our own Dickie Warwick couldn't possibly get the credit that is their due with that method of listing individual records.

Take Gordie Kerr, for instance. He came to the league pretty late in the season, but proceeded to pick up points like Eisenhower at election time. He is, in fact, one of the top pointgetters in the league — on a points-per-game basis; yet the final scoring list doesn't bring out this important fact.

So, with sharpened pencil and keen eyes flashing determinedly, I got down to a little figuring, and came up with the fabulously interesting conclusion that only eleven OSAHL players picked up goals and assists at a better than one-point-per-game clip this season.

Following are the select eleven, with GP meaning games played; PT meaning points, and Avg meaning average points per game:

	GP	PT	Avg
G. Warwick (Penticton)	38	56	1.48
B. Warwick (Penticton)	54	73	1.35
Agar (Vernon)	48	63	1.31
Kerr (Kamloops)	36	41	1.14
MacDonald (Penticton)	63	69	1.11
Middleton (Kelowna)	49	54	1.10
Cutley (Kelowna)	41	45	1.10
Chalmers (Kelowna)	37	40	1.05
D. Warwick (Penticton)	41	42	1.02
Roche (Vernon)	40	50	1.02
Hryciuk (Kamloops)	50	51	1.02

TAKE PLENTY OF YOUNG TALENT and keep it sharp with lots of practice, seems to be the formula that has worked wonders with the Pen Hi Lakers basketball club this year. They have run up an impressive win record this season but this Saturday holds their toughest contest. Lakers take on the highly touted Vancouver College aggregation in what promises to be one of the keenest duels of the year. Shown above sighting in on the hoop are, left to right, Grant MacDonald, Lionel Hammett, Deno Peterson, Gordy May, George Drossos, Chuck Preen and Charlie Burtch. Missing is Dick Getz.

Packers Fight Back From Oblivion; Edge Elks 2-1

KAMLOOPS — Kelowna Packers battled grimly to a 2-1 win over Kamloops Elks in front of the spectacular goaltending of Gerry Koehle here Wednesday night to stay in the playoff picture.

Two games down in the best-of-five series, the Packers refused to let the occasion overawe them and were full value for one of the most exciting wins seen in Kamloops this season. Gerry Koehle, up from Nelson to replace the regular Bob Lalonde, turned in a brilliant chore between the pipes and fully deserved the slices of luck that came his way.

At the other end Boomer Rodzinyak was equally impressive and indeed had far more to do in keeping out the 32 shots thrown at him. Koehle had to deal with only 20 in comparison.

Packers led 1-0 at the first break on a goal by Joe Kaiser, who got credit for the second of two deflections from a blue line shot by Bob Dawes three minutes from the horn.

Gordie Kerr tied it up at 7:44 of the second period when Johnny Millard made the play, but just seven seconds later Dave Wall raced unimpeded through the centre and had no difficulty in outguessing Rodzinyak for the winner.

Elks battled hard to equalize in the third but the Packers, past masters of the destructive style, kept them at bay. The next game goes at Kelowna tonight, with a fifth, if necessary, in Kamloops Saturday.

First period — 1, Kaiser (Dawes, Booth) 16:57. Penalties: Schall (2), Hanson, McCully.

Second period — 2, Kerr (Millard) 7:44; 3, Wall (Dawes) 7:51. Penalties: Conn, Swarbrick (5 min. major), Slater (5 min. major), McCully, Middleton, Hryciuk.

Third period — (No scoring) Penalties: Tuggart.

Arena Schedule

Feb. 18 — 4 p.m., matinee, Wonderland on Ice, 8:30 p.m., evening show, Wonderland on Ice, Glangary Skating Club.

Feb. 19 — No other activity all day; 8:30 p.m., evening show, Wonderland on Ice, Glangary Skating Club.

Feb. 20 — 10 to 11 p.m., industrial hockey games; 1:30 to 4 p.m., commercial hockey games; 4:30 to 8 p.m., figure skating; 8:30 to 10:30 p.m., Kinsmen general skating.

Feb. 21 — 10 to 11 a.m., ice shave, no tiny tot skating; 4 to 6:30 p.m., minor hockey — 8:30 p.m., intermediate playoff hockey — Kamloops Loggers vs. Comblies.

"WONDERLAND ON ICE" SHOW OPENS HERE TODAY

TODAY'S THE BIG DAY for star figure skater Jim Corrigan — and all the other members of the Glangary Skating Club. This afternoon at 4 p.m., and again this evening at 8:30, the club's gala "Wonderland on Ice" show, directed by the Koonts sisters, Elise and Joanne, takes its first bows. Jim Corrigan is the top male skater in the show, and will delight both today's and tomorrow's audiences with the fine form which carried him to the B.C. championships this year.

Sum'land Apple Kings Plan Win Over Princeton After 6-2 Loss Tuesday

Summerland enjoyed its first hockey game of the season Tuesday night when the up-lake arena hosted a rousing game between the Summerland Apple Kings and the Kelowna Juvenile squad. Another game is planned for tonight against Princeton.

Although the local boys were outplayed and outscored 6-2 by the final whistle, it was a very clean, interesting game which the fans thoroughly enjoyed. The Orchard City crew are members of the Okanagan Juvenile league, and are at present occupied in league play-offs.

Geordie Taylor of the Summerlanders opened the scoring early in the middle session after a scoreless opener. This goal had an adverse effect upon the Summerland cause, however, as first Howard, then Dulk, Runzer and Knox tallied for Kelowna in quick succession, all within three minutes.

Furuya made it 4-2 soon after, but Dulk re-established the Kelownians three-goal lead later in the period. The finale was almost a repeat of the first period, however, as play was fairly evenly divided. There was no scoring, either, until Abramyk made it 6-2 for Kelowna with less than two minutes remaining in the game.

It was a clean game with only

New Boathouse For Penticton This Summer

A new building will rear its head on Penticton's Southern lakeshore sometime this spring when the Penticton Aquatic Association begins construction of the first part of their proposed aquatic centre at Skaha Lake. This building, a 26 by 70 feet structure, will house all the shells and war canoes at present in use by rowers and paddlers in Penticton.

Last night at the Penticton Aquatic Association's annual general meeting, Harley Hatfield, chairman of the facilities committee, presented the plans for the frame structure. The financing of this structure will be done by $3,500 released by the Penticton Parks Board for the use of the P.A.A. from the old aquatic building repair fund. This money will pay for materials and the actual work will be done by volunteer labor.

F. C. Christian was elected president of the club, succeeding A. T. Longmore. At present no one has taken on the task of first vice-president. Mrs. K. H. Hammett is second vice-president. Ron Ridder, one of the harder working individuals on last season's executive, has taken on the position of secretary and R. Dinney will continue as treasurer. A. T. Longmore will fill the new post of past president. On the directorate are: Ed. Truscott, Harley Hatfield, Dick Estabrooks, Bill Lemm, Reg Duncan, John Braine, Dan O'Connell, Bob MacMillan, Jack White, Ald. P. MacPherson, Ted Smith, Mrs. Leslie Balla, Mrs. Gene Macdonald, Mrs. Maurice Bird.

This large directorate will take on the task of constructing the first stage of the new clubhouse as well as many other projects. They are at present negotiating with the Parks Board for the construction of a 50 yard swimming pool opposite the clubhouse on Skaha Lake.

They will also continue the job of sending local swimmers, rowers, and paddlers all over the Okanagan and B.C. to compete in regattas. Last year all local competitors showed well and were headed by the showing of Howie Duncan in the BEG trails in St. Catharines Ontario and the highly successful Junior Fours crew.

Men's and ladies' curling draws for next week's Granite Club action appear on page six of this newspaper.

Stiffest Test In Years For Pen Hi Lakers Saturday

Penticton High School will hold its biggest basketball night ever tomorrow night when the Pen Hi Lakers meet their toughest opposition of the season as the Vancouver College boys invade the local domain.

At present the Vancouver College crew is showing well in the Lower Mainland circles. They have defeated Mission (defending B.C. champions), Alberni and many others in recent games. They are rated highly for the B.C. Inter High Tournament in March.

Vancouver College appeared to season and will continue to do so unless injuries interfere.

Starting lineup for tomorrow will see Chuck Preen and George Drossos at guard with Gordy May in the bucket and Charlie Burtch at left forward. The fifth starter will be one of the four remaining players: Deno Peterson, Lionel Hammett, Dick Getz or Grant Macdonald.

This will be the second last home night of basketball for the high school crew with the final going next Friday when the Kamloops Red Devils take on the Lakers.

Tomorrow night the Pen Hi senior 'B' boys and the Lakettes will provide two thrilling preliminaries. They will play the Signlameen boys and girls from Kere-meos. The 'B' boys could clinch first place with a victory tomorrow night.

The main game gets underway at 9:00, with the prelims at 6:45 and 8:00.

Coach Of Britain's Top Hockey Team Also Picks Vees Over USSR

LONDON — (BUP) — Bill Glennie, coach of Britain's top hockey team, has joined the experts who are picking Canada to ease out Russia in the forthcoming World Hockey Championships in Germany.

Glennie, Canadian-born coach of the Harringay Racers, leading club in the 11-team British League, said he thought Canada's representatives in this year's tournament would wallop the Russians and all their opposition in the championships.

"It's been a while since I saw any hockey back home," said Glennie, a 29-year-old native of Portage La Prairie, Man., "but I hear from folks in Canada that the Russians would win the European championship, but that Sweden would give them a hard fight."

"Those Swedes improve every year," he said, "as their style gets more and more away from the traditional European game and leans more toward the hustling game the Canadians play."

Vernon Juveniles Even Series With Wild, 6-3 Win Over BCD's

Vernon Juvenile hockey team forced the Okanagan Juvenile League semi-finals into a third and deciding game when they beat the Penticton BCD's 6-3 in the second game of the best of three series here Tuesday evening. Penticton won the first contest 6-5 in Vernon Saturday.

The local squad were unable to do anything right around the visitors' net as they missed chance after chance. They controlled the play for nearly the entire game but could not get the rubber past the Vernon goalie.

The Vernon quartet of Sparrow, Yarnam, Kineshanko and Bazil decided the locals' fate as they combined to score all six Vernon goals. These boys executed some brilliant passing plays and were able to finish them off neatly time after time.

The game was spiced by fist-fights, with Penticton's Armstrong and Tooley, and Vernon's Jellison, Bazil and Sparrow involved and all five drawing penalties for their action.

Kineshanko opened the scoring for the visitors early in the first period, but Burtch tied it up to one.

Kelowna Packers must win at tonight's meeting in Kelowna against the Kamloops Elks, or be eliminated from the OSAHL semi-finals. Elks lead the best-of-five series two games to one.

SUBMIT NAMES FOR BISHOP OF KOOTENAY

Advisory committee of the Diocese of the Kootenays met in Penticton Wednesday to accept and submit names of nominees for the Bishop of the Kootenays to succeed Bishop F. P. Clarke, who died last December.

The committee will hold names in confidence until all clergymen in the diocese and members of the council have been sent a printed list of nominees. Election of a bishop will take place at Nelson, March 16.

The committee was composed of Archdeacon D. S. Catchpole, Kelowna; Dean T. L. Leadbeater, Nelson; Archdeacon B. A. Resker, Castlegar; Reverend J. Rogers, Trail; Eric Randall, Trail; J. Reynolds, Kimberley; O. St. P. Aikins, Kelowna; C. Bawtree, Enderby.

White Cane Week Not For Funds

Theme of White Cane Week held recently throughout Canada is purely educational, officials of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind point out. It is designed to acquaint the public with work done by the CNIB and to make them conscious of what the white cane means.

It has nothing to do with an appeal for funds. The local unit of CNIB takes part in the United Welfare Appeal campaign and does not conduct a separate fund raising drive.

The first Selkirk settlers in Canada landed on Prince Edward Island in 1803.

Strikes & Spares

Several respectable singles scores were turned in by the women in the mixed bowling league last Wednesday, with Joyce Day topping the field with her neat 278. Stella Swift notched a 253, Edna Reed a 245 and Bernie McDonald a 233. Stella Swift was high in the ladies' triples with a warm 666.

Gordie Linn easily won honors for men's high singles with his torrid 350, but managed less than this total in his other two games combined, to emerge with a triple 710. This was good enough, however, to top all in that department.

Knights of Columbus turned in the best team scores in both categories, bowling a 1093 team single and a 2895 team triple.

Arena Men Talk Cost Of Hockey

During the Okanagan Valley Municipal Association meeting held in Armstrong yesterday, arena commissioners from the four "hockey towns" held a committee session. Later, they were joined by the four mayors or acting mayors.

At the end of their debates it was generally agreed, they report, that as a basis for overcoming the hockey cost problem arenas would endeavor to get charges on an even footing.

While no official word was forthcoming, it was indicated that the group feel they have laid the basis for attempting a solu-

INSECT PESTS BATTLED BY RESEARCHERS

High praise for officials at Summerland Experimental Station was voiced by two distinguished visitors from England who have just completed a two-day visit to the Okanagan.

BATTLE PESTS

Here in connection with research work in the battle against insect pests were Dr. Gordon Hobday, director of research for Boots Drugs and Pharmaceuticals and Miss A. P. Wilson, MBE, biologist in charge of horticultural research for Boots. They are both from Nottingham, England.

They came to Summerland to see the results of a new pest control chemical in the fight against orchard mites.

IMPRESSED

"I am very much impressed with the farm supervised by Dr. T. H. Anstey," Dr. Hobday declared. "Dr. James Marshall is a man of world wide renown and I am greatly pleased with the tests being made."

"The need for new insecticides becomes more and more necessary as time goes on in the fight to bring diseases under control."

Much of the test work at the experimental farm has been carried out under the supervision of Ralph Downing.

Dr. Marshall stated that the visitors from England showed keen interest in spray equipment and the farm will continue to collaborate with English researchers in other developments.

Dr. Hobday and Miss Wilson will visit Boots' head office in Toronto and spend time in Ottawa and Montreal before returning home.

A fire built too soon after an outdoor concrete fireplace is completed will dry out the concrete and mortar. This will cause cracks. Allow a newly constructed concrete fireplace 2 or 3 weeks time before using it. During that waiting period, the concrete can be kept damp by wetting it down at least once a day.

Now don't get the idea that we are advocating the installation of a new roof any time there is a leak in the roof on your house or garage. A portion of a roof that has been damaged by high winds, or a falling tree, or something of that sort, can and should be repaired — if the rest of the roof is in good condition. But if the roof is very old and is showing signs of wear, it needs replacing, not repairing. Sure it will cost more — at the start, but in the long run, you will be glad you installed a new roof. That's a lesson our friend learned the hard way.

A professional painter, who makes a specialty of painting house exteriors, uses a homemade gadget to adjust his ladder to uneven ground. It's a trick the home owner might well adopt if he does much outside painting. Get a piece of metal which can be bent. Make a metal sleeve to fit snugly over one of the bottom legs, or struts, of the ladder. Perforate one side of the metal so that it can receive a large nail. When doing a painting job on uneven ground, put the metal sleeve on the strut so that the ladder rests evenly, then nail in place. After the job is finished, fill up the nail hole with plastic wood or wood putty.

Before putting the plug back,
inspect the washer on it. If it is not in good condition, replace it with a new one. When the plug is securely in place, turn on the hot water faucet and allow it to run for five or 10 minutes. This will clean out any grease which is still in the pipe.

Of course, it is possible that the obstruction in the pipe is much farther down in the line
than the area which you cleaned out. In that case, you would be wise to hire a plumber. But 99 times out of 100, a kitchen sink drain can be unclogged in the manner we have described.

The simplest mechanical method of unclogging a sink drain
involves the use of rubber-suction cup plunger, sometimes called a
"plumber's friend". The plunger is very often misused, many persons are unaware that a certain amount of water must be in the sink while the plunger is being used. Therefore, when you remove the water from the sink,
do not empty it all the way,
leave enough water there to cover
the bottom part of the suction cup — thus providing an airtight seal over the drain. When the plunger is worked up and down,
the alternate compression and suction tends to dislodge anything that is clogging the drain.
If the sink has an overflow outlet, of the type usually seen in bathroom sinks and tubs, this outlet must be plugged with a cloth while the plunger is being used.

The "plumber's friend" will not be a friend if you give up on it quickly. It often is necessary to work it up and down 20 to 40
times before there is any result.
Too many persons operate it a few times and then decide it won't do the job.

If all efforts to unclog the
drain with the plunger bring no result, it then is necessary to remove the clean-out plug and use a coil of steel spring known as a
"snake". You will find the clean-out plug at the bottom of the U-shaped pipe under the sink.
The plug comes off with an ordinary adjustable wrench. The house water supply does not have to be turned off while doing this job, but be sure to put a pail or other container under the plug.
When the plug is removed, the small quantity of water that is still in the pipe will come rushing out. Use a small piece of wire to clean out the pipe in the area where the plug was. It may even be necessary to stick your finger
into the pipe to pull out a piece of pencil or bobby pin or something that may have fallen into the sink. The "snake" should be inserted directly through the top of the sink drain and wiggle

about a bit. The end of it will be visible at the place where the clean-out plug was removed.

not in good condition, replace it
with a new one. When the plug

quickly. It often is necessary to work it up and down 20 to 40
times before there is any result.
Too many persons operate it a few times and then decide it
won't do the job.

If all efforts to unclog the
drain with the plunger bring no
result, it then is necessary to remove the clean-out plug and use
a coil of steel spring known as a
"snake". You will find the clean-
out plug at the bottom of the U-shaped pipe under the sink.
The plug comes off with an ordinary adjustable wrench. The house water supply does not have to be turned off while doing this job, but be sure to put a pail or other container under the plug.
When the plug is removed, the small quantity of water that is still in the pipe will come rushing
out. Use a small piece of wire to clean out the pipe in the area where the plug was. It may even
be necessary to stick your finger
into the pipe to pull out a piece of pencil or bobby pin or something that may have fallen into the sink. The "snake" should be inserted directly through the top of the sink drain and wiggle

about a bit. The end of it will be visible at the place where the clean-out plug was removed.

INSPECT WASHER

Before putting the plug back,
inspect the washer on it. If it is not in good condition, replace it with a new one. When the plug
is securely in place, turn on the hot water faucet and allow it to run for five or 10 minutes. This will clean out any grease which
is still in the pipe.

Of course, it is possible that the obstruction in the pipe is
much farther down in the line
than the area which you cleaned
out. In that case, you would be wise to hire a plumber. But 99
times out of 100, a kitchen sink
drain can be unclogged in the manner we have described.

The simplest mechanical method of unclogging a sink drain
involves the use of rubber-suction
cup plunger, sometimes called a
"plumber's friend". The plunger
is very often misused, many persons are unaware that a certain amount of water must be in the sink while the plunger is being used. Therefore, when you remove the water from the sink,
do not empty it all the way,
leave enough water there to cover
the bottom part of the suction
cup — thus providing an airtight seal over the drain. When the plunger is worked up and down,
the alternate compression and
suction tends to dislodge anything that is clogging the drain.
If the sink has an overflow outlet, of the type usually seen in bathroom sinks and tubs, this outlet must be plugged with a cloth while the plunger is being used.

The "plumber's friend" will not be a friend if you give up on it quickly. It often is necessary to work it up and down 20 to 40
times before there is any result.
Too many persons operate it a few times and then decide it
won't do the job.

Suggests Office Man For Substation Here

Appointment of an office man for the Penticton electrical substation, to take care of both clerical and recording work there, was discussed but deferred by city council on Monday night. Alderman F. P. McPherson, introducing the idea, said that it could well prove a substantial saving for the city, in that it would free existing members of the staff for growing duties in connection with both meter repairing and inspections. It was agreed that the question will be discussed after further study.

Alderman McPherson also brought forward the suggestion that a ladder truck be purchased for the city electrical department. He said that a three-quarter ton truck and ladders would cost approximately $3,750. New Westminster had had such a truck, but had replaced it with a giraffe at a cost of $12,000. This matter was referred to estimates.

Thanks were extended to Mrs. A. F. Cumming who had arranged transportation for the monthly consultative clinics at the local hospital and to the UCT Auxiliary for convening arrangements for refreshments.

Mrs. J. N. Pearson, past president, was chairman of the meeting.

A. K. MACLEOD

Re-elected president of the Summerland Board of Trade, Mr. MacLeod's annual report presented to the board meeting last week reflected the steady growth of the community.

Fight Polio

children ages five and six, as they have the highest attack rate for the "cripping killer", polio, and will use up the supply of vaccine that will be available.

To implement the plan, all children who will start school this fall will be registered early in March instead of in June as has been customary. As they register, the consent-cards will be given to the parents. Consent-cards will be delivered to parents of children already in Grade 1 this year. Full particulars of the plan will be announced immediately prior to the call for registering pupils.

DEVELOPMENT OF VACCINE

The vaccine was developed by Dr. Jonas E. Salk, Research Professor of Bacteriology at the University of Pittsburgh. It is a "triple formulae", and resulted from extensive research with three common strains of poliomyelitis virus.

The vaccine has been assessed over the past two years by Dr. Salk's laboratory, and the National Institutes of Health in Washington, D.C., which license the use of all human vaccines. In addition, extensive field trials have been conducted with 500,000 American school children as well as youngsters in Nova Scotia and Alberta. Reports say the tests have shown "amazing results."

Piano Recital

Chen has given many programs over the CBC networks. She is a pupil of Mrs. Phyllis Schuldt.

Her recital here will include a wide variety of works ranging from such pieces as the Organ Prelude in G minor, Bach-Silotti, to Arthur Benjamin's Siciliana, to Suite Opus 14 by Bartok. Other composers on her program will be Mozart, Brahms, Chasins and Stravinsky. An unusual touch should be added with her presentation of Chasins' "Rush Hour in Hong Kong".

Tickets for this fine recital are now on sale at Harris Music Shop in Penticton, or can be purchased from any city registered music teacher.

Bus Subsidy

gested an increase in rates; this was agreed to by the PUC and seemed to solve the matter, for the time at least. Alderman Fred Harwood of Vernon was another opponent, stating that this would be the first step toward getting subsidies "allowable" for other items.

SPOKE OF DANGERS

T. R. B. Adams, executive secretary of the Union of B.C. Municipalities, said he had not heard the matter discussed previously but would consider it to be a question on which it would be difficult to get unanimity of opinion. Moreover, there were dangers of it being stretched too far to include, say, subsidizing something operated by a very large power and transport company.

When the vote was taken, local aldermen present for the session indicated they "were not surprised at this response", but also agreed that it has left Penticton exactly where it was before, threatened with the loss of a transportation system on which many of its residents have come to rely.

FOR BROTHER'S WEDDING

Miss Joanne Smith, R.N., arrives in Penticton tomorrow morning to attend the wedding of her brother, David Smith. She plans to return to her position as registered nurse in Royal Jubilee Hospital, Victoria, Sunday afternoon.

Theme Of Students' Competition Is "What Brotherhood Means"

Students of public and separate secondary schools are invited to participate in art competition on the theme "What Brotherhood Means in our Community." This competition is under the auspices of the World Brotherhood movement and is being conducted by the Western Division of the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews in the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

A selected group of 300 art works from all over the world will be placed on exhibition at the World Assembly of World Brotherhood in July, 1955, at Brussels, Belgium.

The six best art works from Western Canada will receive prizes of $10 each. The 18 best works throughout Canada will be selected for the Brussels exhibition. The finally chosen art works must reach Brussels by early May.

Students are asked to express through art works, aspects of intergroup relations as seen by them, preferably as they exist in their own community. The works may include paintings, designs, textile art works or posters. Not eligible for this competition will be sculptures or essays.

School systems, schools or classes in Western Canada are asked to submit a selected number of works to the Canadian Council of Christians and Jews, Western Division, 111 Eighth Ave. E., Calgary, Alberta.

The six works to be awarded prizes from Western Canada will be chosen on the basis of three from grades 11 and 12, and three from grades 11 and 12.

An art committee of men and women representing the three major faiths in Canada will make the final selections. Students of all religious denominations and background are invited to compete.

Urges Better Planning Here

Alderman H. G. Garrioch informed council on Monday night that he would like "better planning" on some of the city projects, and an over-all statement on cost before they are started.

He was referring in particular to the Riverside Drive project, for which a further $500 was voted at Monday's meeting, a sum that it was acknowledged will not be sufficient to complete it.

Alderman Garrioch said he agreed that the whole council was in favor of completing this scenic drive to link Lakeshore Drive with the new highway, but he felt that the whole cost should have been made known at the start. Alderman J. G. Harris said he had told Mayor Matson that the road could not be finished for $10,000. A cost of approximately $12,000 in all was suggested as a probability.

This discussion arose out of a Works Committee recommendation that $1,000 be diverted from the South Beach Drive account, with half of it to be spent on furthering Riverside Drive, and the balance on a variety of other smaller jobs. It was agreed that the South Beach Drive project would be replaced, if possible, in the final budget.

Roads to benefit from this move, which council endorsed unanimously, include completion of Lee and Yorkton avenues and of Kensington street extension and some minor tasks.

NAME NEW CLERK
OSOYOOS — Cecil Stratton is the newly appointed village clerk here, succeeding P. T. Dunn who recently resigned.

Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God.

Board Of Appeal On Zoning Taking Shape

"This would be a good move," stated Acting Mayor E. A. Titchmarsh at Monday night's council meeting, when the question of appointment of a zoning board of appeal, as will be required under the new town plan, was brought to council attention.

"My thought is, there would not be too much entailed in doing it now, and it can be just as effective under the old town plan, as the new one, and can be continued when the new one comes into effect," stated Alderman J. G. Harris. City Clerk H. G. Andrews agreed that he will convene at once preparing a draft bylaw, covering the appointment of the board of appeal, council agreeing with this move.

It was pointed out that the board of appeal operates when a prospective builder or subdivider meets with a concrete refusal from the town planning body. At the present time, there being no such channel open, council must itself act as the appeal court. Under the new town plan, once legally passed, it would find this difficult to do, as the plan would be law.

Next meeting of the Union Board of Health will be at Kelowna about the middle of May. It was agreed at Wednesday's meeting of the group held in the City Hall here.

Ex-Penticton Man Honored At Kelowna By Telephone Co.

SUMMERLAND — Summerland citizens were pleased to hear of the honor given Joe Biollo popular telephone man here. Last week he was presented with a gold wrist watch by the Okanagan Telephone Co. in recognition of over 25 years with the service. The gift was given at a banquet at the Royal Anne Hotel in Kelowna by Everard Clark, one of the company's directors.

It was actually nearly 28 years ago that Mr. Biollo became a telephone apprentice and repair man in Penticton where he worked for 16 years. In 1943 he was on leave of absence in the army. While overseas he gained further experience with the communications section in Europe.

Two years later he was back in Penticton, on the job again. In 1949 his transfer to Summerland took place where he is in charge of the dial exchange. It is understood that the Telephone Co. is to enlarge its services in Summerland by adding 80 lines to the dial equipment, and extending cables to the Trout Creek area, so that better service may be given there.

Sports Pourri

But the preliminaries are over. Before this appears in print the Vees will have made their debut in overseas hockey.

One of the expatriate Canadian hockey players who was to be on the team which met the Vees, Ed. Zukowski, who hails from Edmonton, Alberta, said, after watching the Vees at practice: "We don't wear shoulder pads and stuff over here as a general rule but I think we will tomorrow."

Zukowski, who plays in the Hague, picks the Vees to beat the Russians by four goals.

It was snowing at Dusseldorf when the Vees arrived. It continued snowing and Berlin papers carried headlines telling of record snowfall in mid-Europe. Vees flew to Berlin through this snowstorm, and I understand they had quite a rough ride.

They were still abed when I got in later and no wonder, they were having their first sleep since embarking at Penticton.

Events were piled on events. More diplomatic company, Bruce Keith, First Secretary, to the ambassador and Canadian Consul here and Vice-Consul Captain Richard O'Hagan, on the job to see what they could do for the Canadian champs. They were handed job of getting visas for team's visit to Czechoslovakia. Mr. and Mrs. Keith entertained for the club. General William P. Oliver, commanding the British section in Berlin, was present and apart from some interesting conversation regarding the international situation spoke with enthusiasm of a trip made to Canada in 1949.

He told of flying from the coast and passing over a beautiful valley in the interior "That's our valley," he was promptly told. Then the General recalled that he had seen the name "PENTICTON" in "huge" letters on the ground.

Some argument then whether it was Jaycees' sign on Munson's Mountain, or a sign at the airport.

When Vees had their initial practice Berlin railbirds and sports writers were highly impressed, but I thought the Vees looked terrible. That's the way it seemed to me, anyway. Ice was thin and very black, it was hard to keep track of the puck and, in consequence, the Vees' passing game which drew admiration from the German onlookers was nightmarish to me.

Bill Warwick and George McAvoy did some hamming and the Geimans really lapped it up.

A girl photographer said to me after Bill and George had finally broken it up. "That Be-ell — aaah — hard! hard!" Wish I could put the accent and admiration into that little quote.

Chappie who coaches the Berlin team was pointed out to me. He watched the Vees for two minutes and walked away shaking his head.

The Boys Are Edgy

Players in surprisingly good shape considering the journey, but they're edgy. Isn't a man who doesn't realize that they're Canada's representatives and that the winning of the world hockey championship means more this year than it ever has in the past and in all probability will ever mean again in the future?

It isn't an exaggeration to call the Vees a team of destiny.

I was really over the North Sea with the rest of the Penticton Vees and party when I started this column, but at 300 miles an hour it doesn't take long to cross the mouth of the English Channel and I was crossing the Rhine, with Dusseldorf in sight before I knew it.

Trying to collect my thoughts, being whisked across from Penticton, British Columbia, to Germany in a matter of less than two full days, fogged my brain. My plans of writing while enroute were smashed from the beginning by the simple fact that the TCA air liner which carried us from Vancouver to Montreal and the super duper TCA Constellation trans-cruiser which buzzed us across the Atlantic was jam packed and there was no place that a man could put down a typewriter and go to work.

Only reason I was able to work a bit while airborne was that all passengers, with the exception of the Vees and their handful of supporters, stopped off in London.

Clem Bird stopped by to say he'd been hoping to get this kind of deal out of Montreal, meaning a few vacant seats. Hence I was immobilized while travelling and "between-stops" were too brief to get things going.

No McIntyre Cracks

As a matter of fact there hasn't been much to write about. Crowded plane kept the gang from moving around. It was glum. Two days within a couple of arm lengths of Jack McIntyre and never one wise crack out of him.

Foregoing not an alibi, nor a cricism of the Trans Canada Airlines. Everybody was loud in praise of the co-operation and endless trouble taken by the personnel, flying and ground, to make the Vees' journey a pleasant one. Did get one gripe from McIntyre about no bacon and eggs for breakfast, but as Clem Bird said, "If McIntyre didn't beef we'd think he was sick."

"Man's got to do something," cracked McIntyre and "anyway we should have had bacon and eggs."

Quite a to-do at the London airport. Team was met by British Columbia's Agent-General W. A. McAdams. Ended up before a news reel camera with B.C. apples in the picture with Mr. McAdams and the Vees. Camera men told me that the shot would be showing in London movie houses that same night.

Surprise at Prestwick, Scotland. Wouldn't have been surprised to be met by someone with a Sir Harry Lauder brogue, but what we got was the soft accents of the deep south. On hand to meet the Vees was Alf Lewsey, the negro boy who played for a while with the Vees in their first season. Alf is playing with a Scottish team and seems to be in a fair way to becoming a Scotsman. "The Vees have just got to beat those Russians," Alf told me, "this whole country is hot up about it and all pulling for the Vees."

When I got to Dusseldorf I just watched the Penticton Vees high-tailing for Berlin. Boys tumbled off the plane only to learn that the German Ice Hockey Association had routed them through to Berlin that night. Press and fans weren't booked and the plane was filled to capacity. So I had to go along later.

Nice welcome at Dusseldorf. Snowing hard, but there was a whopping crowd and a band, the hand of the Canadian Royal Engineers, headquarters at Chilliwack, B.C., but on a tour of duty in Germany, doing the honors.

We Learn To Curtsey

Welcome was enthusiastic and seemed very sincere. Speech from the Burgemeister, lovely tulips presented to playing coach Grant Warwick. He looked real cute. Hand shaking all round. Look for us all to come back doing a little bob with our hand-shakes, it's a contagious custom.

Departure of the Vees left me sort of holding the fort amassing the amount of information those Dusseldorfs have about the team. One German newsman whose English is about on par with my German said to me, "Warwick," he ticked them off his fingers, "one two, three." Then "Vees, Warwick! Russia! ah! kumerad!"

Reads sort of flat, but his enthusiastic tone of voice when speaking of the Vees and Warwicks, one, two, three, and then the disparaging way he spoke of the Russians and predicting their surrender to the Vees, tickled my funnybone.

Become involved in what could be termed diplomacy. Meeting the Vees was Peyton W. Lyon, Third Secretary to the Canadian Ambassador. The Embassy has been and is still seeking to make European newsman more understanding of Canadian hockey ways.

Seems there is to be a briefing of newsmen covering the games on the day they open, that's February 25, and the tournament's publicity director has given the embassy ten minutes of talking time at the press briefing. At this writing I'm the guy who is to do the talking.

Whatajob, trying to make characters who have never seen Canadian hockey understand what makes Bill Warwick tick. Maybe I should disappear behind the iron curtain for that day. Oh Well.

Delight Large Audience...

Speaker Stresses Need For Unity

"Possibly the most important role of Canada in the next half-century may be the influence it will have the opportunity to exert, directly and indirectly, on United States policy."

A Canadian Club audience was told this in the Prince Charles Hotel last Friday night by Herbert Mowat, of Toronto, in discussing Canadian-American relations.

The speaker introduced himself as one whose boyhood in Ontario had fostered prejudice against rather than in favor of the United States, but his address, as it unfolded, showed his admiration for American policies of the present day.

He did not underestimate shortcomings in the American frame of mind, of the past as well as the present. But, on net balance, it was his view that the world fails to comprehend what the United States is contributing towards its future.

ABOUT U.S.A. "We are the world's ranking authorities on the USA," he said of Canadians, at one point, in emphasizing that Canadians could and should do more to interpret Americans sympathetically to the rest of the world.

Common bonds unite Canada and the United States in NATO as those becoming peace-loving nations.

qualifications for this leadership, a role which the US did not seek, and which cannot by any stretch of the imagination be considered related to imperialist ambitions."

He even described the government of the US as "dragging its feet" right up to the last moment before assumption of leadership; it grasped the helm of the free world only when forced to do so by compulsion of events. Yet in its new role it has acted with boldness and generosity."

He gave but one statistical item to illustrate "the dimension of power essential for this leadership."

In the development of atomic power and the hydrogen bomb the US for years has been consuming more electricity than is developed in the British Isles for the needs of fifty million people.

"The mistakes in policy by the government and people of the United States pale into insignificance beside the contemporary disasters which have overtaken man through the instrumentality of Russia, Germany and Italy."

Pleading that the US and Canada came closer together in understanding, Mr. Mowat pointed out that "a world leadership accepted on a stewardship by these two North American nations may well be the determining factor in rescuing mankind from the scourge of war and in laying the foundations of an enduring peace."

Mr. Mowat was introduced by Mrs. H. E. Chalmers, club president, and was thanked by E. E. Hyndman, school inspector.

Full House Hears De Paur Infantry Chorus Saturday

By John Yeomans

Hardly a seat was left empty in the Penticton High School auditorium Saturday night when the Community Concerts Association presented the third of its current series of four season concerts. And it was just as well, because every unused seat was worth, figuratively, its weight in gold at this concert... an absolutely stunning performance by the De Paur Infantry Chorus.

This was choral work at its best. Community Concerts audiences have heard excellent choruses in the past; but after listening to those 28 men Saturday—and watching the proud, scholarly, athletic figure of their director, Leonard de Paur, perform acts of artistic wizardry—few could doubt that a peak of excellence had been reached in Penticton.

Control was the keystone of the De Paur's eminent success; scintillating control of the techniques in choral and solo singing and beautiful control of the emotional, "human" qualities that bring the technique to life.

This writer, like so many other people, has heard recordings of De Paur chorus singing many times—and has always been most favorably impressed. The recordings, always happen to be spirituals and such bouncy tempos as Calypso and Brazilian sambas, but the fine artistry was always there. This writer imagined, therefore, that he was in for a truly rousing experience Saturday night.

Completely unexpected, however, was the studious depth, the masterful handling of light and shade, the moving sensitivity and understanding of music ranging from Adornamus Te Christe by Mozart—sung in Latin—to chants from Indian folk legends, to songs from the Olbum for Male Voices Opus 30, by Edward Grieg.

It would be so easy for this group of negro artists to make a living singing "typed" songs—spirituals, songs from the deep south, Afro-cubans and calypso. Most of their publicity seems to stress this aspect, and there are not many people who, when they think of the De Paur Infantry Chorus, don't think of the calypso "Marry a Woman Uglier than You". They could be the most successful "darker" negro chorus of the day.

But of course that is not only out of the question, it is also unthinkable. The chorus that sang here Saturday is so good that its field of action, its source of material, is all the choral music in the world... The De Paur Infantry Chorus could sing anything and make it sound like a masterpiece.

Breath control was one of the technical triumphs achieved by the singers. Whether the passage was marked pianissimo or fortissimo, the resulting sound was clear and sharp, with never a trace of throatiness, huskiness or boisterousness. Phrasing and enunciation were so fine, so perfect, that at times one was amazed in having to admit they were almost too perfect. Tone quality was superb at all times, finely balanced and finely shaded.

Timing and rhythmic precision were also most accurate. Final T's, for example, were always pronounced clipped and in complete unison as were all phrase openings, consonants and vowels. The 28 voices sang as one and the final effect was like 100 singing as one.

These serious craftsmen of music, all of them well educated

"Jerry" — the latter actually being a humorous "work song".

To round out the program Leonard de Paur chose two songs from World War II, thus bringing the minds of the audience down to earth and to the fact that this was the De Paur Infantry Chorus. These two pieces were the internationally famous songs — the fighting Australians, "Waltzing Matilda" and a song dedicated to an arthy captain killed in action, "Rodger Young".
